HIGH SCHOOL LOST

SAVANNAH WON IN SATURDAY'S GAME BY SCORE OF 13 TO 12.

MARYVILLE PLAYED WELL

But the Breaks of the Game Were Against Them—Poor Support Given the Team.

The Savannah football team was returned victor over the Maryville high school eleven Saturday by the close score of 13-12. Regardless of who won, it was a good game. The only thing that could have made it better would be reversing the score. The defeat was all the more tragic by reason of the narrow margin separating the two teams at the finish. Maryville outplayed Savannah and deserved to win, but the breaks of the game were against them.

Outside of the second quarter, which was Savannah's, and the fourth, which was fairly even, the Maryville team completely outplayed Savannah. On line plunges and end runs Maryville made approximately 152 yards Savannah only 125. Maryville made first down 14 times to Savannah's 12. Maryville scored in two quarters while Savannah could score in only one.

It is hard to pick individual stars. The entire Maryville back field performed brilliantly. Daniels showed great form as a plunging fullback. Hagins ran the team well and also hit the line hard. Pickens and Woodward were especially strong on the defensive. In the line Lyle, Masters and Groppe opened up big holes for the back field to come through.

The Savannah back field was also strong on line plunging, their little fullback, Barr, being the worst offender. Castle of Savannah suffered a broken rib out played the whole game. No Maryville men were hurt.

The support given the team was poor, considering the brand of football they displayed. The fault was mainly with the students of the high school, as the townspeople turned out in good shape.

Both teams stuck to straight football during the first half. Only one pass was attempted and that was intercepted. Maryville scored first in the opening quarter. Savannah kicked off. After holding Maryville for downs they attempted a pass, which Kemp intercepted. It was again Maryville's ball. Maryville put the ball on Savannah's ten-yard line on a series of line bucks and a fifteen-yard end run by Hagins. Pickens made the remaining ten yards for a touchdown. Egley failed to kick goal. Score 6-0.

Captain Woodward now had the choice of kicking off or receiving the kick. He made the mistake of choosing to kick instead of receiving and continuing on the offensive. Savannah made four first downs on straight line plunges and end runs. Maryville held them for downs, but lost the ball on a fumble. Savannah then went over for a touchdown and kicked goal. Score, Savannah 7, Maryville 6. Egley kicked off. After making first down, a thirty-yard run put the ball in position for Savannah to score. They again carried the ball over for a touchdown on line plunges, but failed to kick goal. Score, Savannah 13, Maryville 6.

During the rest of the quarter and the game Maryville clearly outplayed Savannah. Maryville kicked off and got the ball on a fumble. They then proceeded to rip the Savannah line wide open. They were after a touchdown and were not to be denied. In the last minute of play they rushed the ball down the field for about thirty yards. The ball was on Savannah's fifteen-yard line when the whistle blew, ending the quarter. Had there been another minute to play Maryville would surely have had another touchdown. At the beginning of the second half the ball had to be kicked off again, and Maryville lost their advantage. Just one of the bad breaks.

Second half—Savannah kicked off. Maryville lost the ball on a fumble but held Savannah for downs. They then went out after that touchdown. They put the ball within scoring distance by fierce line plunging and two perfect passes to Egley. Daniels made 12 yards around end and then made the remaining distance for a touchdown, dragging a tackler for about three yards. Egley again failed to kick goal. Score, Savannah 13, Maryville 12. On the kickoff which followed, Egley showed some pretty open field running, making twenty-five yards before he was downed. Maryville lost the ball on an intercepted pass, and the quarter ended with the ball in Savannah's possession.

The fourth quarter was fairly even. The ball alternated in the possession of both teams, in the middle of the field. The game ended with the ball in Savannah's possession. Final score. Savannah 13, Maryville 12.

MURDOCK OUT FOR WILSON.

Former Progressive Leader Says Hughes Has "Mollycoddled on Issues."

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Wichita, Kas., Oct. 21.—Victor Murdock, former Progressive leader in the national house of representatives, has announced in favor of the re-election of President Wilson in an editorial which appeared yesterday in Mr. Murdock's paper, the Wichita Eagle.

Until this time Mr. Murdock's position in the national campaign has been unknown.

The editorial charges that Mr. Hughes, the Republican nominee, has "mollycoddled" on the big issues of the campaign, and asserts that President Wilson is more progressive than his opponent.

THREE AMENDMENTS

COPY OF THEM TO BE VOTED ON RECEIVED BY COUNTY CLERK.

ONE TO PENSION BLIND

State-Wide Prohibition and State Land Bank Are the Other Two Amendments.

Fred J. Yeomans, county clerk, has received large posters from Cornelius Roach, secretary of state, containing the proposed amendments to the constitution of Missouri. The amendments are now being printed in the Weekly Democrat-Forum.

There are three amendments. This is the smallest number for several years.

The first amendment is by joint and concurrent resolution of the legislature and gives permission to pension the deserving blind, if the legislature passes a law to that effect.

The second and third amendments are proposed by initiative petition.

Second is Land Bank.

The second amendment is "to empower the legislature of Missouri to create, by special law, a state land bank, with power to loan money secured by deed of trust on agricultural lands, and to issue bonds, and authorize the appropriation of one million dollars ($1,000,000) out of the state treasury for that purpose, and to exempt the capital and bonds of said bank from taxation, and validating any legislation heretofore enacted for such purposes.

The third amendment is known as the prohibition amendment and the heading is as follows:

"Prohibiting, after July 1, 1917, the manufacture of, the introduction into, and the giving, exchanging, bartering, or disposing of intoxicating liquors in the state of Missouri except wine for sacramental purposes, prescribing a penalty for the violation thereof, and repealing all parts of the constitution, statutes, and municipal laws in conflict therewith."

The prohibition amendment is expected to attract wide attention both in the cities and in the country. This is the first time in six years that the amendment has been voted upon directly. In 1910 the wet majority was 126,089. Since 1910 a number of counties have voted dry and the friends of the amendment declare that they will make a much better showing this year than six years ago.

ABOUT SCOVILLE CAMPAIGN

Floyd Miles, Publicity Man, Says 1,612 Persons Have "Lined Up" in Nine Days.

Floyd C. Miles, publicity manager for the Charles Reign Scoville evangelistic campaigns, sends the following telegram telling of the success of the meetings in Coffeyville, Kan.:

One thousand six hundred and twelve persons, including bank presidents, prominent oil men, several business men, a number of railroad men, several postoffice employees and men and women and boys and girls from all walks of life have gone forward in the nine days of the Charles Reign Scoville evangelistic campaign here. The tabernacle seating more than 3,000 persons filled nightly. The evangelist is fighting bootleggers and South Coffeyville joints, and jolting dead church members and hypocrites mercilessly. "Hell will be full of church members," he declared. He also said that he would rather live with 17,942,361 polecats than a scolding, gossiping woman.

BARKER IN M'DANIEL CASE

Attorney General to Assist in the Prosecution of St. Joseph Man Charged With Murder.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

St. Joseph, Oct. 23.—The state sprang a surprise when Attorney General Barker, requested by Governor Major, appeared to assist in the prosecution of Oscar McDaniel, over the objections of McDaniel's attorneys. The case adjourned until 1:30 o'clock because of the unfamiliarity of Barker with the case.

The case was called at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Assistant Special Prosecutor Lockwood are R. E. Culver and L. A. Vories, while McDaniel is represented by Charles F. Strop and Lewis C. Gabbert.

DR. COILE CALLED

PRESBYTERIAN CONGREGATION GIVES UNANIMOUS INVITATION.

ACCEPTANCE NOT CERTAIN

Minister in St. Joseph, But Will Send answer Soon—Dr. Claggett Bears Message.

The Presbyterian congregation, by unanimous vote, decided to extend a call to Dr. S. A. Coile of Nashville, Tenn., at the morning service yesterday.

The board of elders and trustees had previously agreed on Dr. oCile as their choice if it should be the will of the congregation. They recommended that the members of the church take a vote on the matter, and the result was a unanimous choice for Dr. Coile.

Dr. D. M. Claggett, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church of St. Joseph, and moderator of the Maryville Presbyterian church during the vacancy in the pastorate, conducted the morning and evening services at the church yesterday. Dr. Claggett left this morning for St. Joseph, bearing the invitation of the congregation to Dr. Coile, who took Dr. Claggett's place at the Westminster church yesterday. An answer is expected in the course of a day or so.

The fact that the call for Dr. Coile was unanimous is an indication that his work will be pleasing to the church. The Presbyterians of Maryville are to be congratulated on their choice, as Dr. Coile is not only a pastor but a scholar, as his previous record shows.

Dr. Coile is a graduate of Tusculun college of Greenville, Tenn., and of the Lane Theological seminary of Cincinnati. His first pastorate was at Greenville, Tenn., where he was located for ten years. He was at Knoxville, Tenn., for six years, and at Lebanon, Tenn., for nine years.

WOULD THE "CROOKS OF 1912" LET HUGHES KEEP PLEDGES?

Candidate Hughes is running on a platform of promises.

The safest—the only trustworthy—method of judging the future is by assessing the past. Candidate Hughes' promises should be weighed in the light of his past performances as an executive. Here are some of his promises made when he was a candidate for Governor of New York and set opposite them are his performances to correspond with them:

CANDIDATE HUGHES SAID:	GOVERNOR HUGHES DID:
"I believe in labor legislation and the great benefits that have flowed from the wise conduct of labor organizations."	Refused to appoint a practical railroad man to the State Public Service Commissions, although urged to do so by organized labor.
"I want to see fair justice done to everybody who works."	Vetoed the bill, giving women schoolteachers equal pay with men for equal work.
"Every practical measure for the real benefit of labor will have my support."	Vetoed the full-crew railroad bill.
"I promise the enforcement of the law with equal severity and in equal justice to all—corporations and individuals."	Vetoed bills urged by State Tax Commission to compel corporations to pay their franchise taxes promptly and to authorize the Tax Board to equalize special franchise tax valuations.
"The conditions of transportation in New York City are a shame and I purpose to find out the proper method of procedure and whether legislation or administrative action is necessary."	Vetoed Coney Island five-cent fare bill which would have saved the people of New York city $1,500,000 a year. Accomplished nothing to correct street-car overcrowding.
"I shall devote myself with renewed zeal to the people's service. My administration shall be an unbossed administration."	Blocked in his efforts by the bosses of his party, Gov. Hughes resigned in his second term to accept appointment to the United States Supreme Court.

Mr. Hughes is not the Republican party. He would be no more able to make good his promises as President than he was as Governor of New York. If he were elected President he could deliver only so much as the Republican bosses—the "Crooks" denounced by Roosevelt in 1912—would permit him to deliver.

STILL IN THE LEAD

MISSOURI IS POULTRY QUEEN OF THE UNION.

REALIZED 58 MILLIONS

Through the Sale of These Commodities, According to Report of Bureau.

(By A. T. Edmonston.)

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 22.—Missouri farmers, poultry raisers and others of the state who supply the market with chickens, turkeys, geese, ducks, squabs, eggs, feathers and similar products in the year 1915, realized approximately $58,883,365 through the sale of these commodities, all in good hard cash, some of which receipts went to lift mortgages on farms, and some for automobiles and other similar luxuries.

That Missouri is still poultry queen of the Union there is little doubt since the 1915 farm products output was considerably in excess of the production of 1914, which sold for $53,381,594. Missouri held that high honor then, and therefore must surely retain it.

It is figured that railroads, steamboats and express companies carried from Missouri's 144 counties in 1914 poultry products worth $39,422,129, and the quantity sold by farmers directly to retailers and consumers was worth $19,461,236, giving the entire quantity marketed a value of $58,883,365.

For years the bureau of labor statistics has figured on a basis that two-fifths of all live and dressed poultry and of the production of eggs are shipped to market; that one-fifth is hauled by producing farmers and poultry raisers to their neighboring cities and towns and sold there direct to retailers or consumers, and the remaining two-fifths either consumed by the farmers and their families and employes or used for propagating purposes.

Poultry, a term which includes hens, roosters, broilers, stewers, guineas, turkeys, geese, ducks, squabs, are sent to market by farmer and poultry raisers either alive or dressed. Live poultry shipments exceeded dressed poultry by over two to one. Statistical information covering the quantity and value of Missouri farm yard products placed on the market in 1915 follows, the value representing what it brought wholesale, and it is conservative for the reason that the portion sold direct by farmers to consumers realized more money, in proportion. Live poultry, which includes turkeys, averaged 11.1 cents per pound; dressed poultry, 15 cents per pound; eggs, 15 cents per

PLAYING BOTH SIDES AGAINST THE MIDDLE.

Here we have Candidate Hughes placating and playing hard for the German-American vote and Roosevelt "skinning 'em alive" to get the anti-German vote for Hughes.

We see Candidate Hughes and his chairman, Wilcox, condemning the child labor law as a fraud and a hoax and a joker, and Senator Cummins and Ex-Senator Beveridge praising it; Senator Cummins saying that "anyone who denounces it is either ignorant or incompetent."

Here is Candidate Hughes opposing and criticising the Adamson eight-hour law, and seventy Republican congressmen who voted for it running for re-election on their records, and the twenty-eight Republican senators who allowed the bill to pass when they could have easily defeated it.

We have innumerable Republican speakers, from Candidate Hughes down, saying that our prosperity is "fictitious," "merely temporary," or "consisting wholly of war munitions," and on the other hand every bank and railroad and big business house making reports showing business in the most prosperous condition, and the stocks on the market all going up.

"It is to laugh."

LOVETT TO BUSINESS MEN.

Robert E. Lovett, the head of the Union Pacific railway system, in declaring his support of Woodrow Wilson, has addressed an argument to business men that deserves their careful attention. It is an argument presented to honest business men who are doing a legitimate business, who desire to obey the law, and who aspire to deserve the good will and respect of their customers and of the general public.

Judge Lovett is not favorably impressed by everything the Democratic administration has done. He thinks it made a "mistake" in the enactment of the eight-hour law. He thinks it was "unwise" to limit injunctions in the labor disputes. He thinks the Mexican policy was wrong. But, he says, "We all make mistakes. Men must be judged by the average of achievement—not by one act of many which go to make up a notable record." And surveying the record as a whole he concludes that "Wilson has more really great achievements to his record than most presidents who preceded him."

Judge Lovett foresees the danger to business and industry of all kinds that would inevitably follow the aligning of the "business interests" solidly in one party, thereby creating a political division in the country as between the rich and the poor, than which nothing could be more ominous to all legitimate industry. He says:

"If business men refuse to support a Democratic administration which deals fairly and befriends business, what can they hope for from that party in the future? If the Democrats cannot count upon the support of business men under any conditions, will not the inevitable effect be to make that party hostile to business; to make it the party of the poor and the radical, and to make the Republican party more and more the party of the rich and the reactionaries? It takes no prophet to forecast the result of party cleavage upon this line."

The appeal made by Judge Lovett to business men is well worth the consideration not of the business men alone, but of all men who love their country and who desire to see it progress in unity toward prosperity and justice. It is so clearly and strongly stated that we cannot do better than to quote a part of what he says:

"I am not prepared to believe that business men are lacking in appreciation of what Mr. Wilson has done for business. True, he has not taken us back to the days of Mark Hanna, to which some seem to think we will return if he is defeated. But he has given us business peace and an open field for a fair fight. He has submitted the law as a rule of conduct for government by executive order and Presidential favoritism; and the 'undesirable citizen' has had the same show as the most influential group or the biggest campaign contributor. No special dispensations to form trusts have been granted, and it has not been necessary to consult the White House, rather than counsel before doing business. The statutes, and not the Presidential feelings or state of mind, have been our guide. And these have been administered evenly, impartially, justly, without straining to harass or persecute, and, except the New Haven case, without any suspicion of being in obedience to popular clamor.

"Contrast this with the administrations of his recent predecessors, when business men were hunted as 'big game' and the Presidential choice between the 'good trusts' and the 'bad trusts,' rather than the law, was the rule and guide. There are business men in this town now criticising Wilson in glittering generalities who, under previous administrations, did not know how long they would be out of jail, try hard as they could to obey the law. We have had none of this under Wilson. Each has gone his way without any fear of persecution—with only the law for his guide. Friend and foe have been treated alike. What personal friend has shown more loyal and consistent personal and official friendship for every form of legitimate business and enterprise?"

There is not an intelligent business man in the United States but knows that what Judge Lovett here says is the truth. The rule under other administrations has been: "Support this administration and its policies and receive your reward. Refuse—and pay the price!" The rule under Wilson has been: "Obey the law—and prosper to the extent of your capacity. And here is the law made plain to you."

OUR MEXICAN POLICY BASED ON HUMANITY

RESISTED WAR PRESSURE

Determined That America's Sister Republic Shall Be Permitted to Work Out Its Problem of Freedom and Self-Government.

"President Wilson's faith in democracy, and the unselfishness of the United States in international dealings, have been strikingly expressed in his Mexican policy.

"The President's demand for Mexico is—Justice."

The larger phases of the relations of the United States with Mexico during President Wilson's Administration as well as an interesting and complete narrative of events are presented authoritatively in the Mexican chapter of the Democratic National Text Book, from which these quotations are made:

"Two considerations have animated the President in the formulation of his Mexican policy and have compelled his adherence to it throughout his Administration, namely:

"The firm conviction that all nations, both the weak and the powerful, have the inviolable right to control their internal affairs.

"The belief, established upon the history of the world, that Mexico will never become a peaceful and law-abiding neighbor of the United States until she has been permitted to achieve a permanent and basic settlement of her troubles without outside interference.....

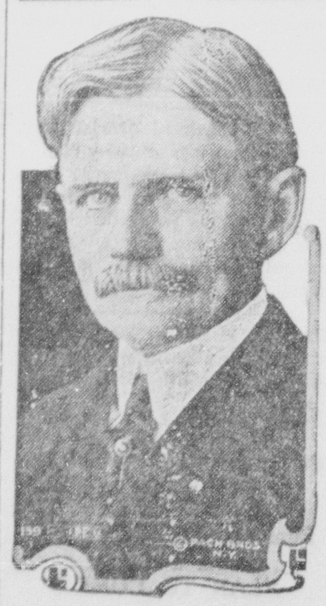
"The Mexican problem in its present form has existed for the American Government ever since our frontier was extended to the Rio Grande. When the people maintained the peace it was because they were forced to do so, and not because justice reigned in the land. Thus it was that the history of Mexico, like the history of every aspiring people, pressed upon President Wilson's consideration the truth that no permanent good relations could exist between this great Northern Republic and the one immediately South of us until she had been left free to put her house in order, however painful that process might be and whatever the demands it might make upon the forbearance of the United States."

"There was a powerful pressure for war—a terrible war—by a well-armed powerful nation against an unarmed, bankrupt people exhausted by five years of civil strife, but who still retained enough of patriotic feeling to unify them against an invader. It was the old, old question whether the United States should impose a peace on Mexico; whether, for the sake of the interests of a few of its citizens, it should permanently suppress Mexico's upreaching toward freedom and self-government."

FOR SERVICES RENDERED NOT PROMISES BROKEN

"I do not doubt that the people of the United States will wish the Democratic party to continue in control of the government. They are not in the habit of rejecting those who have actually served them for those who are making doubtful and conjectural promises of service. Least of all are they likely to substitute those who promised to render them particular services and proved false to that promise for those who have actually rendered those very services."—From President Wilson's Speech of Acceptance.

VICE-PRESIDENT MARSHALL FROM LATEST PHOTOGRAPH



IF THE G. O. P. ELEPHANT COULD SPEAK THE TRUTH

VOTERS of the U. S. A.—

We, the Republican party, being at our wits' end and desperate, put it up to you:

For nearly four years now a Democratic Administration has been in power. Contrary to every law of reason, every principle of progress, the country is at peace and alive, nay, humming with prosperity. Business is rushing. Wages are high. The only discontent is the discontent of those who are reaching for bigger chunks of plenty.

We are flabbergasted. All this has happened during a period when the rest of the world has been agog, when international crises were impending on all sides, when we would have sworn only Republican statesmanship could pull the nation through.

No war has engulfed us. No panic has paralyzed us. No nation has with impunity continued to infringe upon our rights.

We can't deny what has been done. All we can do is take our oath we could have done it better. How, we do not know. If only we said it loud and long enough we hoped the country would believe us.

But the country is busy and our voices grow hoarse. We are having a hard time.

Woodrow Wilson has nothing to show but what he has accomplished. He has none of the glamour of the what-might-be. We, on the contrary, have our old promises and policies, mellowed by age, but still bearing the stamp of the nation's solid interests. Protection, privilege, government by influence—surely the country has not given them their last trial.

Wall street is with us. Big business is with us. But O, Voters, we confess it, we need you. Don't keep looking at the peace and prosperity around you. Try to get our point of view. Whatever Wilson has done, the man is a Democrat, and neither Federal Government nor Federal offices were meant to be forever in such hands.

Let's forget issues and talk as friends. Turn him out and give us a chance!

PRAISES WILSON'S STAND IN BEHALF OF SUFFRAGE

The action of the National Suffrage Association at Atlantic City, N. J., in rejecting by an overwhelming vote the proposal to make the suffrage movement a partisan annex of the Republican campaign, was further emphasized by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, "the sage of suffrage," in an interview published in the Philadelphia Press, a staunch Republican organ.

"The President, in his speech to the convention, promised all he could carry out," said Dr. Shaw. "If he had promised more we would have known that he could not carry it out.

"Not the Republicans alone, nor the Democrats alone, can bring suffrage. If it could be done that way I would favor it. But it can't. We must get enough Democrats and Republicans together to do it."

"WATCHFUL WAITING" HAS SAVED A NATION'S LIFE

Mexican Envoy's Tribute to President Wilson's Policy.

Convincing testimony to the wisdom and justice of President Wilson's Mexican policy is brought from Mexico itself by Luis Cabrera, one of Mexico's commissioners at the joint Mexican-American Conference now in session at New London, Conn.

"I do not care to discuss political or international questions of any kind," said Senor Cabrera in a recent interview, "but I will say that in official circles of Mexico President Wilson is looked upon as one of the greatest men the United States ever has had as a leader. He is calm and considerate, and his much abused 'watchful waiting' policy has probably saved the life of my nation and prevented your country from entering into a needless struggle."

The Weber Always Leads

ABOUT 1845, when the first Weber was built, you could not buy a better wagon than a Weber. There were no better built. Weber made "the best" his standard.

That was over seventy years ago, but the standard has been the same every year since. You know that, from the good work you have seen Weber wagons doing. You know they have been always popular.

We can show you, if you come in, that "the best" is the Weber standard to-day. We want to show the wagon to you in the up-to-date form, with every improvement, some of which you can't find on any other make of wagon.

You can see, here in the store, the new fifth wheel, the folding end gate, the link end rods, the strong construction of gears, wheels, and boxes. Come in the first chance you have and see this wagon.

D. A. R. DEFENDS BAKER

Say He Upholds Mexican for Emulating Americans Seeking Democratic Government.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 23.—Prominent members of the D. A. R. in various states are contradicting the misstatements of Secretary Baker's comparison of revolutionists of America and Mexico. Notable are Mrs. Mathew Scott and Mrs. Carl Vrooman of Rockford, Ill.; Mrs. Wm. D. Washburn of Evansville, Mrs. Myron T. Vorse of Cleveland, O., and others, who have joined in issuing a statement to the press through the Democratic national headquarters.

"Secretary Baker's statement," they declare, "has been twisted inside out by Republican speakers. The truth is he compared the Mexican revolutionists with our own in order to honor both his allusion to the lawless vagabonds who follow all armies were based on the Christian doctrine of removing the beam from our own eye before searching for the mote in the eye of a hard pressed neighbor. His appeal was for a square deal for the Mexicans, who are seeking to follow American example in revolution from tyranny. All true patriots who love what our stars and stripes stand for and believe in democracy must rejoice in Secretary Baker's plea for the right of the masses of Mexican people to strive as we have striven and are still striving for a democratic government."

"RUPERT OF HENTZAU"

Bluebird Photoplays have gone to Anthony Hope's remarkably popular play, "Rupert of Hentzau," to provide a five-act photo drama that embraces many possibilities for intense emotional acting, set in picturesque surroundings. Those who know the plot will recall it as as a sequel to the "Prisoner of Zenda," and will remember how a handsome young Englishman was elevated to the throne of Ruritania because of the rightful king being held a prisoner by his ancient enemy, Rupert of Hentzau. So remarkable was the likeness between the Englishman and the real king that Queen Flavia did not realize the substitution until after the coronation. Then the real king was released and the Englishman returned home.

The Bluebird film-story of "Rupert of Hentzau" begins with an incident which proves that Queen Flavia still loves the Englishman, Rudolf Rassendyll. Each year since she was crowned beside the counterfeit kin, she has sent him a rose; but this time there goes with it a note saying that she cannot continue as an honorable wife and still treasure his memory.

Rupert of Hentzau learns through his spy system that the note has been written and succeeds in overtaking the messenger and by force robs him of the letter. This brings into action the old animosity between Rupert and Hentzau and the right ful king of Ruritania through giving Rupert what he believes will prove a medium to usurp the throne to which he has always treacherously aspired.

Queen Flavia's faithful servant, Lieut. Sapt, learns that the note has been sent and communicates with Rassendyll, the information that Rupert has secured possession of the letter. Upon receiving this information, Rassendyll resolves to once more return to Ruritania and protect Queen Flavia from the inevitable consequences of her action.

When the scene shifts to Ruritania for the final culmination of the story, there is pictured a tense and gripping melodrama. Stirring scenes and violent combat, plus the rapid unfolding of intensely interesting incidents, work the story swiftly through five parts in a series of exciting and highly interesting incidents.

PAINTER UPHELD BY COURT

Crandall and McDonald Ousted as Commissioners at St. Joseph by Supreme Court.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Jefferson City, Oct. 31.—In an opinion by Judge Henry W. Bond, concurred in by Chief Justice A. M. Woodson and Judges C. B. Faris, R. F. Walker and James P. Blair, the supreme court in banc Saturday afternoon sustained the judgment of the Buchanan county circuit court in the quo warranto proceedings under which Commissioner U. G. Crandell and Joseph McDonald of St. Joseph were ousted from office, after they had been decapitated officially by Acting Gov. William R. Painter last August.

Judge W. W. Graves and Judge Charles G. Revelle dissented from the opinion of Judge Bond, but have not yet filed their dissents in the shape of opinion.

Judge Bond sustains absolutely the right and power of the chief executive of the state to remove from office with or without cause, any police commissioner.

Judge Bond says the power to remove was inserted in the status and rests in the discretion of the governor upon prescribed grounds, the existence of which he is allowed to determine to his own satisfaction.

The reasons given for the governor's action in removing Crandall and McDonald, Judge Bond says, were in strict conformity to the statutory power. He was thus possessed of jurisdiction to act, and his exercise of that jurisdiction was the discharge of an executive duty imposed on him as the governor of the state, which is not reviewable by the courts.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

ENGLISH SPARROW MUST GO

League of American Sportsmen Urges Nation-Wide Campaign to Save Song Birds.

The League of American Sportsmen, whose object is the preservation of wild life, is considering the question of inaugurating a nation-wide campaign for the destruction of the English sparrow. Its officers say this bird has made such headway here that it is driving out the smaller song and insectivorous birds, and that it has become a question of whether we shall have only the English sparrow to represent our bird life or destroy it and regain some 50 species of useful and beautiful birds that used to inhabit cities, farms and countryside all over the land.

The league intends to ask the governor of each state to issue a proclamation declaring war on the English sparrow and setting aside a week, possibly in April or May of next year, to be devoted especially to destroying nests of this pernicious pest. Printed instructions as to the plan of the campaign will be sent to the mayors of all incorporated cities and villages, to the heads of the school systems in every county, to college presidents, to principals of preparatory schools, to the heads of the Boy Scouts in each state, and to other organizations which might be expected to extend sympathy and aid.

Four principal methods of action will be employed: Tearing down the nests, trapping the birds, shooting them under police supervision and under licenses issued by the police authorities, and, in cities where water pressure is available, turning the hose on the birds at night after they have gone to roost.

THEY WEAR LIQUID GLOVES

Allies Prevent Surgical Hand Gear From Reaching Germans, But They Find Substitute.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Berlin, Oct. 22.—The allies will not permit rubber surgical gloves to reach Germany and Austria-Hungary, but German science has found a substitute.

The "Chemiker-Zeitung" reports that the German army surgeons and nurses are wearing "liquid gloves" when performing operations or dressing the wounds of men suffering from gangrene. Before the surgeon begins an operation he pours an antiseptic solution of cellulose called "steriline" over his sterilized hands and distributes it evenly by rubbing. Within a few minutes the liquid part of the solution evaporates and the hands become covered with a thin artificial skin which is entirely flexible and resembles very fine rubber. After the operation the cellulose can be quickly removed with warm water and certain chemicals.

According to the "Zentralblatt fuer Chirurgie" the "liquid gloves" are a complete success and will be universally used after the war, because they cost almost nothing, while rubber gloves are expensive even in time of peace. The steriline is also successfully used in dressing wounds to prevent infection.

TREATMENT OF COLD

COMMON FALL AILMENT IS COMMUNICABLE DISEASE.

NO SPECIAL GERM, CAUSE

But Two or Three Microbes May Carry Cold—Specialist Gives Advice For Prevention.

During the fall and early winter many persons contract colds which continue to worry them and make them ill for the entire winter. This common cold-in-the-head is a communicable disease. What causes a cold, how to prevent it and how to cure it are important subjects, according to a member of the faculty of the school of Medicine of the University of Missouri.

There is no special germ that causes a cold, but there are several that may cause one, says this authority. The discharges from the nose, throat and mouth, and the exhalations from the lungs of a person with a cold may contain the infectious agent. Primarily the disease affects the sensitive lining of the nose, causing inflammation. Lowered bodily resistance, caused by extreme fatigue or continued residence in poorly heated places; chilling the body; wet feet; damp clothing predispose the development of a cold. When in such condition, ordinary contact with a person who has a cold may cause one to "take" cold. Oftentimes overeating, causing indigestion, is related to "taking" cold, hence the excellent practice of taking an active purge at the beginning of a cold. A cold usually goes before some more serious disease, therefore it is best to block the progress.

To prevent colds, shun overheated, underheated or irregularly heated rooms and poorly ventilated rooms. Avoid contact with persons who have colds. Use common sense in dressing. When colds are epidemic, avoid places where a large number of people are congregated.

But in spite of preventive measures we all get colds. A few simple directions for the treatment are given by the University of Missouri physicians. Within the first few hours after you have taken a cold and upon going to bed, take a large hot lemonade. Spirituous liquors should be avoided. For a few days the diet should be free from meats, condiments, sweets and pastries. If there is no fever a person may go about his ordinary activities, but it is better to remain one day at home where heating and ventilating conditions may be controlled. If these simple remedies do not control or cure the attack one should have the advice of a physician promptly.
